

Why Cracow?

Situated on south of Poland over the Wisla river, Cracow is one of the oldest and biggest cities in entire country. Its history reaches 1000 years ago. Formal location was in 1257. Cracow used to be a capitol of Poland. You can find here a great variety of muzeums, galleries, or historical monuments such as Old Marketplace, Wawel Castle and plenty of middle- aged churches. So called Old Town is enroled into UNESCO. Often visited place is Kazimierz – old jewish district. Whereas near Cracow, in Wieliczka is situated one of the oldest salt mines on the world.

mining salt since about 3500 B.C. People were getting salt by evaporation it from brine (water with dissolved salt). Brine wells became origin of pit-shafts Gazaris and Sutoris from which salt was started to be mined with mining methods known today. Gazaris run out of its salt resources but Sutoris is being used nowadays.

Beginning of the Bochnia Salt Mine is dated on year 1248 but parts of Bochnia were used to Cracow is one of the most important communication center in Poland. Many national and European roads cross here. On south beltway of city runs highway A4. Cracow has very good complex net of national and foreign transport- trains run regularly to Berlin, Hamburg, Vienna as well as Prague and Budapest. Dynamic development of cheap air lines caused that Cracow has air connections with many cities in Europe and in the world. For example Easy Jet do promotion on tickets and you can buy round way ticket to Paris or Berlin for only 210 zł.

Cracow is also the oldest university city in Poland. The presence of students in Cracow began with the founding of the Krakow Academy (later renamed to the Jagiellonian University) in 1364. Today it is one of the largest academic centres in Poland – over a 100 thousand students are enrolled in Cracow's various colleges. Such an amount of students defines the life of the city – a countless number of shops, pubs, cafes and clubs, mostly localized near the Main Square, means that the city centre never sleeps.

No matter what time is it, you can always find a pub which is in the middle of fun. Moreover, cheap alcohol and great atmosphere will provide you a great time whole entire night. No one, who is in Cracow can fell lonely. Beside students you can meet here an incredible amount of tourists who came to marvel our charming city.

Why Is it worth to cooperate with LG ELSA in Cracow?

ELSA Cracow is one of biggest local ELSA group in Poland. Our activity can be seen in all ELSA areas. We organize conferences, seminars, contests and parties (our famous Tramway Party) ! We also manage student trainee
